Governor Recognizes Six Idaho Facilities for Exceptional Leadership in Industrial Energy Efficiency

On Wednesday, November 4, 2015, Idaho Governor C.L. "Butch" Otter recognized the recipients of the 2015 Idaho Awards for Leadership in Industrial Energy Efficiency. These awards highlight the industrial companies that are exceptional state leaders in implementing energy efficiency at their local facilities.

The recipients of the 2015 Idaho Award for Excellence in Industrial Energy Efficiency are:

ConAgra Foods Lamb Weston – American Falls Plant

ConAgra Foods Lamb Weston – Twin Falls Plant

DOT Foods – Burley

Davisco Foods – Jerome Cheese

J.R. Simplot Company – "Don Plant" – Pocatello

The recipient of the 2015 Governor's Award for Leadership in Industrial Energy Efficiency is:

J.R. Simplot Company – "Idaho Plant" - Caldwell

Each company has shown a corporate commitment to reduce their energy use and environmental impact on the state. These six facilities combined have estimated to save enough energy to power over 2,500 Idaho homes for a year; demonstrating that these companies have proved to be exceptional state leaders in implementing energy efficiency at their local facilities. For the six recipients, energy efficiency has become a source of both cost reduction and market advantage.
